Abrasive Customer Information Portal (CIP) - Terms of use

1. Customer applying for a user account shall send to Ahlstrom-Munksjö an application request through our main contact. The latter is responsible to inform Ahlstrom-Munksjö of any changes in position or departure of the user in order to block the user account as soon as possible to protect customer's information.
2. Ahlstrom-Munksjö will send individual user name and password allocated for one person. The account is setup according to given access rights authorized by our main contact person.
3. After first-time login at CIP, the user must change his password. New passwords must consist of at least 6 characters.
4. Users agree that Ahlstrom-Munksjö may forward name, address and e-mail details regarding registered users within legally allowed frames to allow account management.
5. CIP may, due to maintenance, become temporarily unavailable.
6. Misuse of CIP may lead to immediate denial of access. Blocked user accounts will only be re-established after new application.
7. Unused user-accounts may be disabled temporarily or permanently deleted.
8. After three erroneous login attempts, user accounts will automatically be blocked. Un-blocking of user accounts can only be undertaken by Ahlstrom-Munksjö and a new password will be allocated at this time.
